NEW COMMUNITY BOARD CHAIRMAN DR. A. ZACHARY YAMBA RETIRES

New Community Board of Directors Chairman Dr. A. Zachary Yamba has retired from his position with the organization, effective Dec. 31, 2023. Yamba joined the Board in September 2012 and became Chairman in June 2018 following the passing of NCC founder and Board Chairman Monsignor William J. Linder.

Yamba was involved with New Community long before his official capacity as a member of the Board of Directors. He was a parishioner of Queen of Angels Church where Monsignor Linder served as priest during the founding of New Community. He had been asked to join the Board prior to 2012 but declined because of his employment responsibilities. After he retired, he joined New Community's Board of Directors.

He has enjoyed being able to give back to the community through his work on NCC's Board.

"The myriad of services that New Community offers are critical to the total well-being of the community. And that has been my passion all along," Yamba said.

During his service with the Board of Directors, Yamba oversaw the re-syndication of NCC housing, helped lead the organization through the COVID-19 pandemic, established Board committees to have closer working relationships with NCC leadership staff, assisted in the re-accreditation process for New Community Career & Technical Institute, led NCC through times of leadership transition and helped relaunch the organization's Golfing for a Cause fundraiser following the pandemic.

NCC Interim Board Chairman Edgar Nemorin said Yamba has been an ambassador, advocate and steward to New Community.

"As Board Chairman, he successfully ensured that New Community Corporation continued its mission of providing services to the residents of Newark," Nemorin said. "Although he has resigned as a Board Member and Board Chairman of NCC, we know that he is only a phone call away to assist us in fulfilling our mission."

Under Yamba's direction, the Board worked with senior leadership after the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic to ensure the health and safety of NCC employees, residents and clients while maintaining the necessary services to the community. He also led the organization through two leadership transitions: the passing of Monsignor Linder and the retirement of CEO Richard Rohrman. He was instrumental in the search process for NCC's current CEO Simone Gagneron.

“Dr. Yamba defines what it means to be in public service. The dedication and support he has provided to New Community and the people of Newark is extraordinary,” Gagneron said. “He has clearly set the stage for others to follow. I would like to thank him personally and professionally for his guidance.”

Yamba said New Community’s mission is just as relevant today as it was in 1968 when the organization was founded and that its offerings continue to be vital.

“It’s my hope and prayer and certainly part of Monsignor’s vision that these services will continue to be provided as long as we have people who need them,” Yamba said.

In addition to his work with New Community, Yamba has served the community in a variety of roles in the areas of education and community development.

Yamba is President Emeritus of Essex County College. He served as President from 1980 to 2010, which is the longest tenure for that position at the school. He was also involved with the institution well before leading it. Yamba joined the humanities faculty when the college opened in 1968 and served as Dean of Faculty before he was appointed President in May 1980.

Current Essex County College President Dr. Augustine Boakye said Yamba strengthened the community through his work.

“Our Essex County College family and the Essex Community owe Dr. Yamba a debt of gratitude for enriching our lives and making education the cornerstone of community engagement and development,” he said.

Yamba served as a commissioner of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools for more than a decade and is a founding member of the Presidents’ Round Table, an affiliate of the National Council on Black American Affairs of the American Association of Community Colleges. His other past affiliations include serving on the boards of the Essex County WIB, Newark Downtown Redevelopment Corporation, American Conference on Diversity, Christ the King Prep Academy, Council of Higher Education in Newark (CHEN) and Newark Boys Chorus School. He is also an Emeritus Board Member of Victoria Foundation.

“For decades, Dr. A. Zachary Yamba has been one of Newark’s great educators and activists. Whether as President of Essex County College, Chairman of the New Community Corporation Board or Commissioner of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, he has mentored and inspired his colleagues, students and residents of our city. His legacy is firm in the hearts and minds of the generations he empowered in his many endeavors,” said Newark Mayor Ras J. Baraka. “As Dr. Yamba enters this new phase of his life, we thank him for his leadership and service to Newark, and wish him joy and success for the future.”

Victoria Foundation Executive Officer Craig Drinkard said the City of Newark, Essex County and the State of New Jersey are all better places because of Yamba’s leadership.

“His tireless and regal service to Newark and all of humanity spans decades and has helped to transform the lives of countless individuals and families,” Drinkard said.

Urban League of Essex County President and CEO Vivian Cox Fraser said Yamba has demonstrated a lifelong commitment to advancing opportunities for families.

“As President of Essex County College and his leadership on the Board of New Community, Zack never lost sight of the people he was there to serve and help.”

A graduate of Seton Hall University, Yamba was awarded honorary degrees from his alma mater, Rutgers University and the University of Development Studies in Ghana. In 1980, Yamba, an All-America soccer player, was inducted into Seton Hall’s Athletic Hall of Fame.

“There are many words to describe Dr. Yamba and his passion for the mission of NCC, the NCC community and the residents of Newark. Of the many words that come to mind, he has been an ambassador, advocate and steward to New Community. As Board Chairman, he successfully ensured that New Community Corporation continued its mission of providing services to the residents of Newark. Personally, he has been a mentor and a friend.

As an NCC Board member for over 12 years, Dr. Yamba has provided oversight into the re-syndication of our housing properties. Additionally, he was able to assist in the re-accreditation of our workforce development programs.

Dr. Yamba led the search process with other Board members to hire the new CEO of New Community Corporation.

He also collaborated with NCC staff to implement measures in response to COVID-19 to protect the health and safety of employees and residents of NCC.

Under his leadership as Chairman, he established committees within the Board that can work directly with the NCC leadership in completing our financial and strategic goals.

He also assisted in the re-launch of our annual golf outing, which was suspended due to the pandemic. It is one of the major fundraisers for NCC where the funds assist our Youth Services Department and the Monsignor Linder Scholarship Fund.

Although he has resigned as a Board Member and Board Chairman of NCC, we know that he is only a phone call away to assist us in fulfilling our mission.”

“Over the years, Dr. Yamba emerged as a leader who tirelessly worked toward the betterment of his community. Whether through civic engagement, advocacy or mentorship, he dedicated himself to fostering unity and understanding among the diverse members of the community. He was not just a leader; he was a guiding force, inspiring those around him to strive for excellence and to embrace the collective strength that comes from unity. And unadulterated hope remained his constant mantra until his recent retirement.

Dr. Yamba in achieving his personal and leadership goals throughout his life. Believing wholeheartedly in the mission of outreach, he joined Monsignor on the New Community Corporation Board of Directors and quickly became an integral part of the body where his overarching goal was making a difference in the lives of inner-city residents as he employed innovative ways to do whatever was necessary for the common collective.

Dr. Yamba's legacy will undoubtedly live on in the hearts and minds of those who were touched, led and mentored by his warmth, wisdom and unwavering commitment to making a difference. As we bid farewell to this chapter of his amazing life as our beloved community leader, let us carry forward the torch of his legacy. May we, like Dr. Yamba, continue to build bridges, foster understanding and work toward a more inclusive and harmonious community.

Thank you, Dr. Yamba, for your enduring impact on us all.”
